

The Museum for Black Girls

An immersive love letter to Black women.

ART. CULTURE. COMMUNITY. JOY.

More than a museum. A place to belong.

Founded by Denver native Charlie Billingsley, the Museum for Black Girls celebrates the stories, creativity, and brilliance of Black women.

What began as a one-night celebration grew into a traveling pop-up and a permanent home on Denver's 16th Street Mall. With more than 25 interactive rooms, community events, and youth programming, every visit is an invitation to feel seen.

7,000

square feet in downtown Denver

25+

immersive, interactive rooms

Fall 2026

Oakland, California expansion

The Take Care Black Girl Foundation supports free workshops, mentorship, and wellness programming for young Black girls. Foundation initiatives include State of Healing.

Grandma's Kitchen / Courtesy of Museum for Black Girls

The details that matter.

Denver, CO

Flagship location, open year-round. A permanent 7,000-square-foot home on Denver’s 16th Street Mall.

25+ rooms

Immersive, interactive, photo-worthy installations celebrating Black women.

Oakland, CA

New location opening Fall 2026, with community-sourced exhibitions.

Weekly events

Paint & sips, yoga, day parties, and workshops.

501(c)(3)

Take Care Black Girl Foundation · EIN 93-2751568. The foundation and museum retain distinct identities.

Private events

Venue rentals, brand activations, launches, and photography shoots.

Joy, in every frame.

01 / TOGETHER

02 / IN BLOOM

03 / A CULTURAL RECORD

A story worth telling.

Selected editorial coverage. Click an outlet to read the feature.

Colorado Public Radio

Five-year anniversary · Colorado Matters

CBS Colorado

16th Street Mall opening · RiNo debut

Denverite

A return to downtown Denver

The Denver Post

Culture, hip-hop & '90s fashion

5280 Magazine

Joy in a world of Black women

Westword

Charlie Billingsley · Colorado Creative

Rocky Mountain PBS

An immersive cultural experience

KUNC

Beauty and joy of the Black experience

FOX31 Denver

Black History Month reopening

CU Independent

We CU exhibition at CU Boulder

STORY ANGLES

A museum built as a love letter. A new chapter in Oakland. Culture as community care. An unexpected setting for private events and creative collaborations.

Beyond the headline.

A museum built as a love letter

Every room is designed to make Black women feel seen, celebrated, and photographed.

From Denver to Oakland

The museum expands to the Bay Area in Fall 2026 with community-sourced exhibitions like Who Raised You? The Family Album.

Healing as programming

The State of Healing initiative and Take Care Black Girl Foundation bring free wellness tools, journaling, and events to the community.

A venue unlike any other

Brands, couples, and creators rent the museum's immersive rooms for events, launches, and shoots.

Unmistakably us.

Original museum marks and Ahsing / Montserrat typography from the supplied brand guide.

Keep logo proportions and colors intact. Use clear space and uncluttered backgrounds. Contact the museum for original logo files and commercial or broadcast permissions.

Aa

Ahsing

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz123
4567890!@#%&*()

FONT S

Aa

Montserrat

ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
Zabcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz12345
67890!@#%&*()

MAGENTA
#D6005F

PINK METALLIC
#F9DCE4

ROSE
#F083A1

ORANGE
#E37D00

WARM BROWN
#A5592F

The museum and the Take Care Black Girl Foundation retain distinct visual identities. Foundation branding is not a substitute for museum branding.

DENVER, COLORADO / THE MUSEUM FOR BLACK GIRLS

Come into the story.

Interview requests. Museum visits. Editorial photography.
High-resolution originals, broadcast B-roll, and brand files on request.
We respond within 2 business days.

info@themuseumforblackgirls.com

themuseumforblackgirls.com/press

500 16th Street Mall, Suite 261 · Denver Pavilions
Oakland, California · Opening Fall 2026

Editorial use: free. Credit: Courtesy of Museum for Black Girls.